Jack Johnson seems to have been double thirtened.The "drys" captured nine counties from the "wets" in the Michigan elections Monday.Love & Henry, the Springfield publishers, are issuing a paper at Guthrie once a week called the Guthrie Tribune.News that the Germans have sunk an Italian Steamer has created a tremendous stir at Genoa, where the ship was bound far from Baltimore loaded with coal.King George of England has undertaken to solve the liquor question by getting on the water wagon himself and appealing to his subjects to ride with him. The Czar of Russia by one order drove vodka out of his empire. That is the difference between an absolute monarchy and a limited monarchy.By agreement of counsel for both sides the trial of the $50,000 libel suit brought by William Barnes of Albany against former President Theodore Roosevelt, has been set down for Apr. 19. The action will have preference over all other cases on the calendar. The name of the justice who will preside has not been announced.Gifford Pinchot, who received an appointment to assist the American commission for relief in Belgium to distribute food to destitute French territory occupied by the Germans, was refused permission by the German authorities to enter Belgium. It is understood that the state department will assign Mr.
Pinchot to other work in the war zone.Latest reports of the great storm which swept the Atlantic coast Friday and Saturday indicate that the toll of human life will reach nearly a hundred persons. The Royal Dutch West Indies steamer Prins Maurits, with forty-nine persons aboard, is believed to have foundered off Cape Hatteras. Not a word to give hope that the vessel still was afloat has been received. Fifteen of the crew of the sea-going tug Edward Luken-bach perished when the tug was wrecked off False Cape, Va. Ten men were drowned when the barge Tampico, which broke away from her tow, are believed to have been lost.
Crews of dozens of barges, schooners and other craft which went ashore at various points were rescued by other vessels or coast guards.

Powerful Stimulant.

The leaves of the kat plant are a common stimulant among the natives of Abyssinia and Arabia. They are chewed when any special or long-continued effort is to be made, and their effect is to produce an agreeable sleeplessness and stimulation—a kind of intoxication of long duration—with none of the disagreeable features of ordinary inebriety. They enable messengers and soldiers to go without food for a number of days. They sometimes produce a state of drunkenness, like the alcohol of Europeans, but overindulgence is rare, the effects of abuse of the habit being a tendency of the body to dry, and emaciation of the visage, with a trembling of the limbs and other nervous troubles. In some places merchants chew the leaves two or three times a day, the habit being fairly comparable to the use of tea in the United States and elsewhere. The plant is specially cultivated as dwarf shoots, shrubs and small trees—the dwarf plants being not more than sixteen inches tall and yielding the most tender, popular and high-priced leaves.

Showing His Hand.

"Henry VIII as a Gambler" is the title of an interesting contribution to history. And it must be admitted that he held some queens.—Washington Post.

FLOWN BY MERCHANT SHIPS

Nations of the World Have Various Flags—Their Use Strictly Prescribed by Custom.The British mercantile flag is known familiarly as the Red Ensign, says London Tit-Bits. Strictly speaking, no inland person has any right to fly the Red Ensign ashore, the only flag permissible being the plain Union Jack, which the ordinary citizen often flies upside down.
The Red Ensign has its official status from the edicts of two queens, Queen Anne in 1707 and Queen Victoria in 1864.The merchantmen of the colonies generally use the Red Ensign also, but by permission of the admiralty may add the badge of the colony "in the fly." Some nations have special mercantile marine flags, but not all.
The United States flag, for instance, is the Stars and Stripes for all occasions.The German mercantile flag of black, white and red dates only from 1867, and symbolizes the union between the Hohenzollern black and white and the red and white of the Hanseatic league. The Russian mercantile flag, introduced by Peter the Great, was originally the Dutch flag, familiar to him from his studies in Holland, reversed. Later the arrangement of the three colors was varied.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is Paxtine
A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.
As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal.
For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority.
Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At

BOY BORN WITHOUT LEGS

But He Wins a Pony in Subscription Contest and is Puzzled as to How to Ride It.Little Louis von Ruden, Glenwood City's noted lapsus natura, has just received word that he had won a pony for securing the largest number of votes in a farm journal's subscription contest.What he will do with the animal when he gets it is a matter of speculation, as he is entirely without lower limbs, having been born that way about ten years ago. Notwithstanding his lack of natural propellers, he gets about with more than the average speed of boys by means of a roller skate strapped to a stump where one of his legs ought to be.
He is an unusually bright boy for his years, goes to school, enjoys uniformly good health, and shows no lack of cheerfulness because of his unique physical make-up.Boysish discomforts from new shoes are an unknown thing to him, and the dictates of fashion as to the correct length and circumference of trousers legs have no interest for him. His people are substantial Germans, who see that he lacks for none of the things that contribute to juvenile happiness.—Glenwood City (Wis.) Dispatch to the Milwaukee Leader.

ties of the Third Judicial District.
His opponent, Hon. Denny P. Smith, is invited to be present and accept a division of time.

Monday, April 26, Murray.

Speaking to begin at 1:30 p. m.

Unwelcome Messengers of Defeat.
One of the more genial practices of Ivan the Terrible was to stick a steel lance through the foot of a messenger who brought him bad news. All the "A. D. T." men of the old days had a hard life. The wonder is now that in those times anybody could be found to tell the truth of a defeat. Incredible as it may seem, there was always some impetuous ass who would actually put spurs to his horse to get to the king, or the czar, or whatever master it was, to tell him that his dub at the front had lost the battle.
Then the king, or the czar, or whatever it was, would call the impetuous one a slave or something worse, without smiling, and have his head cut off, or boil him in oil, or pin his foot to the ground as if he were responsible.
As has been intimated, Ivan the Terrible was particularly adept in these scholarly ways of punishing bad news.

PRISONER PAID HIS BOARD

Case of United States Sailer, Under Arrest, Reads Like Incident of Napoleonic Wars.A not very frequent sight is that of a sailor in irons, delivered a prisoner to shore authorities for an offense committed on the high seas.
Recently Benjamin R. Johnson was thus handed over to New York authorities for shooting one of his mates on the American schooner Republic.For thirty days after his seizure in Guadeloupe harbor Johnson was kept in jail and made to pay his own board at the rate of 60 cents a day. Then when he was shipped north he was compelled to pay his own passage, although in irons, at a cost of $34. How this will be untangled the sea lawyers are conjecturing.It is related that during the Napoleonic wars French prisoners at Dartmouth prison in England were served with a species of red herring that might almost be classified as a stage property. The herring, it was authentically reported, had been in use fully five years. When it was delivered by the food contractor it was unfit to eat. Nevertheless the prisoner had to take it as a part of his ration. In despair he sold it back to the contractor for something of less value than was eatable.

CALCULATING YOUTH

Mr. Goode—I suppose you will soon be looking forward to the coming of Santa Claus, Johnny.
Johnny—No. It's too early to begin to figure. They kept me on my good behavior for six months last year, and all I got was a suit of clothes that was coming to me anyhow.

JAPS TO BUILD SUBMARINES.

Rear Admiral Kantaro Suzuki, vice-minister of marine, who has been interviewed by a Japanese news agency on lessons of the war, has added his opinion to that of many naval experts of other countries to the effect that the usefulness of the submarine was being so strongly demonstrated in the present war that the leading nations would devote much time and money to this branch of naval service. Rear Admiral Suzuki said that the Japanese naval authorities were already giving much attention to the study of submarines.
Heretofore it has been impossible to build submarines in Japan, but some of the shipyards are now prepared to undertake contracts for such craft, and, in the opinion of Rear Admiral Suzuki, the Japanese yards would be able to meet the needs of the navy in this direction.
